

Jessica Cree-Alvarez, St. Regis Mohawk, has a bachelor's degree in Business Administration with over seven years of administrative support. Her work experience began with the Indian Health Service Summer Internship program at Headquarters East in Rockville, Maryland. Through her university career she worked at the St. Regis Mohawk Tribe and upon completion of her degree she was named the Public Information Officer for the Tribe. An involved community member she dedicates her spare time to coaching youth soccer and serving on the Akwesasne Boys and Girls Club Board of Directors. Jessica and her companion live on the Akwesasne Mohawk Territory with their two boys.

